

What are the symptoms of partial onset seizures? [1]

Answer:

There are many different symptoms that come with seizures. Overall, there are 2 kinds of seizures. Generalized seizures, these take place across both sides of the brain and partial seizures, these are localized in one part of the brain. There are 2 basic types of partial seizure: simple and complex.

During simple partial seizures, a person:

- Stays alert
- Can answer questions and follow commands
- Can recall what happened during the seizure

During complex partial seizures, a person:

- Loses or has a change in consciousness
- May not be able to answer questions or follow commands
- Often cannot recall what happened during part or all of the seizure

Show In Block:

Short Block Link Type:

Same page.

Treat:

Partial Onset Seizures in Adults [2]

---

Source URL: <https://www.lyrica.com/faq/what-are-symptoms-partial-onset-seizures>

Links

[1] <https://www.lyrica.com/faq/what-are-symptoms-partial-onset-seizures>

[2] <https://www.lyrica.com/lyrica-treats/partial-onset-seizures-adults>